

Junior Men's World Team Championships
Canadian Team Historical Records

Although the ISRF World Junior Men's Team Championship started in 1980, there had been a forerunner since 1973. In England it was decided to start a team event to coincide with the British Junior Open, and the first was held April 11 - 13, 1973. Four countries, England, Scotland, Wales and Sweden took part at the courts of the National Westminster Bank Sports Ground in South London, playing for a shield presented by the Bank. The event was titled the Junior International Festival.

The unofficial international festival was staged every year up to 1979, gaining in numbers and breadth of international competition. In 1980 the first of the official three men events was played, others following on a biennial basis. Canada has participated on an uninterrupted basis since 1978, coming 3rd in 1979, 1992 and 2010.
