

Canadian Team- Pan American Championships Historical Records

The Pan American Squash Championships, which were inaugurated in 1991, serve as a complement to the quadrennial Pan American Games, with the Pan Am Squash Championships being held during the three years of the four-year cycle when the Pan Am Games are not being contested. The Pan Am Squash Championships are open to men and women players in North and South America, with nations selecting three male and three female athletes to represent them at the event. The competition now features three disciplines - singles, doubles, and team format.

Canada has competed every year since 1992, except 2012, and while it has hosted the Pan Am Games, it has never hosted the Pan Am Championships, probably for logistical reasons. Over the years Canada has won 10 Individual and Team 1sts, and numerous other high placings.
