

JUNIOR MEN'S WORLD INDIVIDUAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Prior to 1980 there was no individual event to accompany the unofficial team events of 1978 and 1979. From 1980 until 2008 it was played every two years but since then has become an annual event. Canada hosted the event in Calgary in 1984. Since its inception Canadians have placed in the last 8 on three occasions - Jonathon Power (finalist in Hong Kong in 1992), Shahier Razik (quarter - finalist in Cairo in 1996), and Shawn Delierre (quarter - finalist in Milan in 2000).